

SMARTORK SPECIFICATION

A 5 1/2" spring assisted spirator device, being of a three channel grooved, conical helix design, being utilized for the closing of elevator hoistway doors. Device having more tension force in closed position of hoistway doors than in open position. Said device reducing tension force in opening position of elevator hoistway doors as to reduce peak amps required by door operator to open elevator hoistway doors.

